

I do a lot of traveling on the road and don't always look ahead to see what the weather conditions while traveling from city to city. It becomes beneficial to me when I have the ability to tune into a station on my XM tuner and find out what sort of weather conditions I may be heading into when I'm out and about.